

Security
 Access
 Fire
 Electrical

Spirit Group

Raising a glass to safety

Spirit Group is the division of Punch Taverns – the UK's leading pub company – that looks after the company's managed premises. First Choice Facilities (FCF) provides portable appliance testing and emergency lighting for over 1000 of Spirit Group's sites.

Andy Townsend, Maintenance Manager at Spirit Group, says: "Following a tender process FCF was chosen as the contractor responsible for carrying out a nationwide testing programme. With FCF's Key Account Administrator programme supporting clients, I have really been impressed with their ability to solve all my problems after just one call."

SSP UK Rail

Keeping safety on the rails

Select Service Partners (SSP) UK Rail division manages over 400 bar, catering and convenience outlets in railway stations across the country. When FCF was asked to carry out electrical testing at all SSP sites, the challenge was to carry out the testing without disrupting business – and without compromising the high standards of health and safety required at each railway station.

Cortney Richmond of SSP UK Rail says: "I have found that FCF are able to deal with all the challenges that SSP and the railway stations have given them. We find the ability to access the test data through their website gives us added benefits as we can access certificates without even having to pick up the telephone".

Luton Hoo

Fire protection for listed spa hotel

Set amid 1000 acres of rolling English countryside, the Luton Hoo Hotel, Golf & Spa is a superb destination for both leisure breaks and business functions. FCF was appointed to provide fire protection and air sampling systems to protect the painstakingly restored Grade I listed property and its discerning guests and staff.

fire alarm system to cover the main Mansion House and remote buildings. The system included an air sampling system and several fire panels all linked on a fibre optic network in order to operate as one complete system.

With a reputation for providing robust, integrated and cost effective solutions, FCF installed a networked analogue addressable

FCF have also installed an extension to the system in Warren Weir, the hotel's new private function and conference complex. FCF carry out routine servicing and maintenance to the system to ensure continuing levels of protection.